

Gregory Davis - Producer/Keyboards

Gregory is formally trained in music with a Bachelor of Music Degree in Piano, graduating from Illinois Wesleyan University. He has been writing, producing, recording, and performing music for over twenty years and currently resides in Boulder, Colorado. His musical background includes Classical, Rock, Pop, Electronic, New Age and Native American, among others. Gregory started his music career in Los Angeles working in radio by day, and writing and performing with a local original rock band by night. Various bands and songwriting material followed in an effort to secure a traditional recording contract. Soul Catcher Music and Soul Catcher Publishing were created to support independent writing efforts resulting in ten recorded full length CDs. Gregory's music has received airplay on a multitude of domestic and international radio stations, and with the rise of online music licensing companies, has received multiple sync licensing placements.
