

Tessa Anderson - Vocals

Tessa has been a member of multiple bands, both cover and original, developing her vocal skills in a variety of styles. As with many vocalists, she developed her skills as a church choir member and soloist eventually culminating in an eight year run with Jubilate, a national acapella touring group based in Colorado. Highlights include a performance at Carnegie Hall, as a choir soloist. As vocalist for Drakon Myth, she brings the vocal strength and power one would expect in Symphonic Metal reflecting back to rock icons like Pat Benatar and Ann Wilson. In addition she contributed to the writing process penning the lyrics and melody to Everlasting Love on the CD, Destiny of Love. As a side note, Tessa is a huge NASCAR fan. When asked, "Why do you enjoy singing?"... "To experience the freedom and energy of full vocal expression and to take those who listen on the journey with me."
